LATEST DEVELOPMENTS: THE NEW COMMUNITY COLISEUM

Two tons of feed and a thousand pounds of grass seed, prepared especially for football fields, were spread on the turf during the spring. The officials at the college had planted the fields in April, and rolled in. The sod, which was laid in place just last fall, came through the winter in fine shape and is growing well. The base of the football field is a mixture of black and white dirt, and the base of the baseball diamond will be drained out enough to be cut to the base line by the end of May.

The baseball grandstand is reaching a stage of completion where it is felt that the university has an improved facility, and students will be able to paint it as their own. The committee for the Adumni Association recommends that, since the stadium is for the entire community, the students may want to paint the grandstand. The committee also recommends that the students have the opportunity to participate. Accordingly, students from MSM and the towns around, as well as members of the baseball community, will be able to participate in the painting of the grandstand, which is expected to be completed by the end of May.

GRADUATE STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

The Student Senate is the most important student organization on campus. It is the key to campus government and participation in matters affecting the student body as a whole.

TheSigmaRho fraternity has been very active in its promotion through the fraternity and wishes to extend it via the student body as a whole."
The annual track meet was held on April 3, at the Montana State College Field House in Bozeman. The School of Mines team had won four of the last five track meets, but they were confident they could continue their winning streak.

The meet started with the sprints, and the Grizzlies' team led from the beginning. Ron Lowrey won the 440 yard dash with a time of 48.6 seconds, and Frank Koskimaki won the 1 mile relay with a time of 3:50.2. The Grizzlies also won the 4x100 meter relay with a time of 43.8 seconds.

The Grizzlies continued their domination in the field events. Barton Penny won the shot put with a throw of 43.2 feet, and Ron Lowrey won the long jump with a leap of 20.8 feet. The Grizzlies also won the discus and the javelin.

The Grizzlies' last event was the 4x400 meter relay, which they won with a time of 3:16.0. The final score was 90-66 in favor of the Grizzlies.

The annual track meet was a great success, and the Grizzlies couldn't wait to see what their next meet would bring.
